

Jessica Lee Levings, MS, RD
Project Officer, CDC Contractor

Jessica is a Federal Contractor and Policy Analyst at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Since joining CDC's Division for Heart Disease and Stroke Prevention in 2009, she has worked to support the Agency's Sodium Reduction Initiative and led the development of guidance documents such as Improving the Food Environment through Nutrition Standards: A Guide for Government Procurement, and four venue-based guides for sodium reduction in schools, worksites, hospitals, and congregate populations. Jessica holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Nutrition from the University of Florida and a Master of Science degree in Exercise Physiology from Georgia State University.